⁴At the time of the 1870 Census of Scott Co, MS, J.(W? or M?) Mangum b 1827, MS, was living adjacent to _____ Mangum, age 71 (possibly Joseph Mangum). Residing in the household of J. Mangum was wife Nancy, b ca 1837, SC; Martha b ca 1856 MS; Mary b ca 1858 MS; Margaret b ca 1859 MS; Lucy b ca 1862, MS, John b ca 1873 MS; and Samuel b ca 1867 MS. Francis (female) age 23; Amanda age 21, and Arthur Mangum, age 19 were in the household of _____ Mangum.

³Mrs. Curtis reports that according to the Mississippi, Scott Co, 1860 Census the name of a second wife was Feebe?; the census writing unclear.

²Source: Mrs. J.M. Curtis of Camden, Ark, the Rev. John M. Mangum of Henryville, PA, and Mrs. Dorothy Jane Mangum Breland of Mascoutah, Illinois.

¹The 1850 Census notes NC as place of birth; the 1880 Census gives SC.

By 1840 Joseph's family included 2 males under 5 years, one male 20 to 30, one male 30 to 40, 1 female under 5, and one female 15 to 30. Individual members of his family are identified for the first time in the federal census of 1850:

Joseph Mangum⁵ (John¹, William², James³, Jacob⁴, Joseph⁵), born in Chesterfield Co, SC, was the son of Jacob Mangum and Anna "Nancy" Lee and a brother to Arthur Mangum. (See Chapter 17 on the descendants of Arthur Mangum and Chapter 16 for other descendants of Jacob Mangum.) It is not known whether the two brothers migrated to the Mississippi Territory together. One Joseph Mangum appears in Marion County, MS, in 1821 at which time he witnessed a gift from Thomas Sumrall to his son's widow. Joseph may have been in Alabama in 1827 in the 1828 state census of Simpson County, MS. Joseph's family appears two years later in the 1830 Federal Census of Simpson County with two males under five years, one male between 20 and 30 years, one female under 5 years, along with a female in the 20-30 year category, who most likely was his wife.

¹Letter from Grady G. Mangum of San Antonio, TX, dated 3 Feb 1973 to James Parham, Editor of the Mangum Family Bulletin

Dr. J.L. Campbell and C.P. Mangum in their twenty-two page booklet on The Mangum Family, written during WWII, wrote, "The military record of the ancestors of the authors of this outline reach back to the beginnings of the history of the United States. Jacob Mangum served with Francis Marion, the swamp fox, during the Revolution." On page 2 of the same booklet they wrote "Jacob Mangum, born Jacob Mangum on 5 Dec 1794 patented 50 acres of land in the County of Richmond between "gum swamp and Chalk fork" for a price of Thirty Shillings for "every hundred acres granted." Later in 1795 he patented an additional 25 acres in Richmond Co lying on the "west side of Joe's Creek." On Jan 6, 1797, he purchased two parcels of land of 140 acres in Richmond County, VA, from John McNair for 150 pounds. Then on 2 February 1800 Jacob sold a total of 300 acres in Richmond Co to Stephen Mendenhall. On 16 June 1801 Jacob purchased 150 acres in Anson Co, NC from John Ford. Anson County joins Richmond, and the land was probably near or adjoining Jacob's considerable homestead.

No documentation has been found to date concerning Jacob until the 1790 Federal Census of the Fayette District in Richmond Co, NC. At that time listed in his household were 2 females over 16, 2 females under 16, a total of 4 white females and 1 slave. Other North Carolina Mangums identified in the same census was James, Howell, William, and Joseph Mangum of the Hillsborough District in Granville Co, NC, all of the Beaver Dam District, and Henry Mangum of Halifax County, NC. Undoubtedly all these Mangum families were related, and most likely descendants of John Mangum and Frances Bennett of Isle of Wight Co, VA.

Jacob⁴ Mangum (John¹, William², James³, Jacob⁴), the father of Arthur and Joseph Mangum who migrated to Mississippi about 1820, was born ca 1759 NC. The location within North Carolina is unknown, and no record has been found to clearly identify his father. Some of his descendants believe that the North Carolina records which might have named his father were destroyed during the Civil War. Family tradition, however, is that he was the son of the James Mangum¹ (1734-1835), who died in Granville Co, NC. James' will noted that he had one son who was unnamed. Jacob's places of residence and his age as well as the residence and age of James all tend to support this tradition. Grady G. Mangum, a descendant of Jacob and one who had spent many years researching his Mangum family line, wrote on in a letter to James Parham, dated 3 Feb 1773, that while this family link is missing and proof is doubtful at this time, Jacob, as the son of James, is the only plausible conclusion and had been passed by word of mouth to ear from father to son.

- Jacob Mangum of Granville Co, NC
- about 1760, the first of whom we have an authentic account, lived in North Carolina. About 1780, while serving with General Francis Marion against the British and Tories in South Carolina, he met and married Miss Esther Gibson. They had four children, one son and three daughters. Their one son was the Rev. James Mangum who migrated to GA about 1824 and lived in Fulton Co. (See descendants of James and Mary Knight listed below.) A fourth son, William, a full brother to Arthur and Joseph, migrated from the Chesterfield District near York, South Carolina, and lived near his half-brother, James, on the South River in Georgia. After the death of his wife, Ester Gibson, Jacob married Anna "Nancy" Lee, the daughter of James Lee (and Elizabeth ca 1787) and had nine sons: Arthur and Joseph Mangum, the ancestors of the Mangum clan of Simpson, Smith, Scott, Rankin, Attala, and other MS counties, were two of these nine sons.
- Jacob lived in Richmond Co, NC, with his large family until about 1800 (between Feb 1800 and June 1801) at which time he moved to Chesterfield Co, SC. The move involved a short distance only as Chesterfield Co, SC, adjoined Anson Co, NC. From there at least four of his sons migrated further south into Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi.
- Little more is known about Jacob Mangum until Nov 16, 1835, at which time a newspaper announcement of his death and estate distribution was to be made in Chesterfield Co, SC. The announcements identifies

¹² In correspondence with the author, Dr. Jack Mangum of San Francisco, 15 October 1981, wrote, "My grandfather, Pressley Mangum, was born in Chesterfield County, SC, and rode with J.E.B. Stuart at the age of 17. His father and brothers were killed in the Civil War. He moved to Marlborough County, SC, where he married 3 times (Gibson, Adam, Fletcher)....Apparently Willie P. Mangum of the Durham-Chapel Hill area was referred to as "Cousin Willie."

¹¹Willey P. Mangum, age 38, farmer and family appear in the 1880 Census of Granville Co, NC, Township Tally Ho. The age given for Willey P. and the location strongly suggest this to be the son and grandchild of Jacob Mangum. (See MFB #2, July 1969 p. 27.)

The early settlers, including Arthur Mangum, came and "entered" land. In these early days, the pioneers secured possession of the land from the US by what was known as the "Bit Law." Congress had passed the "bit act" by which citizens of this country could gain possession of land by "entering" it at a "bit" an acre. (12 1/2 cents). Later the homestead act was passed by which they could homestead it somewhat cheaper. This whole section of the country at that time was wooded with virgin long-leaf yellow pine timber. Willis Magee in 1840 "entered" 160 acres of land, including the present site of Magee, and built a grist mill on Little Goodwater

There is an interesting story connected with their travels to Simpson County, as they made their way across the trackless wilds. A band of Indians made a raid upon the moving van and captured the baby boy of the Mangum family and escaped into the forests. The baby was recovered later, but no record has been left as to what might have become of the raiding Indians! It was noted in the WPA file that "this boy grew to manhood and became the "velvet handed" Mangum; meaning, he wore gloves and avoided work as much as possible. The Mangum in question has remained unidentified.

Tradition tells us that Arthur and Phillip Magee along with sisters Penny and Polly Butler-traversed as two families the long stretch of country from South Carolina in covered wagons. Records in Marion County, MS, where many of the early Simpson County settlers first settled in Mississippi--indicate that Phillip, Jacob, and Myer Magee were in Marion County by 1812. On 9 June 1812 Phillip had registered his individual "Marks and Brands" of his cattle. Perhaps Phillip returned to North Carolina to persuade Arthur and Penelope to join him and Polly in Mississippi, or perhaps Phillip may have "entered" the land in 1819 for his brother-in-law since Arthur appears in the 1820 Census of North Carolina. Phillip had registered his "marks and brand" as "a swallow fork in the right ear, a crop and slit in the leaf and a brand 2 rod." Perhaps Phillip and family either preceded the Mangums to this area or returned to North Carolina to persuade them to make this big move to the southern frontier where vast amounts of fertile and heavily wooded land was readily available.

Arthur Mangum⁵ (John¹, William², James³, Jacob⁴, Arthur⁵), the common ancestor for the vast majority of Mangums residing in and around Simpson County, MS, was born ca 1788, North Carolina, and died in 1863, Simpson Co, MS. He is buried without a headstone in the Old Tullis Cemetery near Sanatorium. Arthur married Penelope (Penny) Butler, daughter of John Butler and sister to Mary (Polly) Butler Magee and wife of Phillip Magee, before 1815, most likely in Chesterfield Co, South Carolina. Arthur's father Jacob and family appear in the 1820 Census of Chesterfield Co, SC. By 1820 Arthur and Penelope had four sons, all of whom were under the age of 10 years.

DESCENDANTS OF ARTHUR MANGUM¹ AND PENELOPE BUTLER

Simpson and adjoining counties have all been blessed with the good name and work of the many outstanding Mangums who have contributed much to the welfare and advancement of the county and State. Mangums have been prominent in civic and local affairs as educators, lawyers, doctors, merchants, and farmers-to name but a few of their chosen professions. First names like "Arthur," "James," "Joseph," "William," "Eugenia," "John," and "Samuel" continue to carry on the traditions established and Arthur Mangum and Joseph Mangum and maintained by their descendants.

By the time of the 1830 Census Arthur Mangum was joined by his brother Joseph in Simpson County. Joseph apparently had entered Simpson County via Marion County where many of the early settlers of Simpson appeared for a brief time before moving to Simpson after the county was organized in 1823. On 12 July 1821 Joseph Mangum had witnessed a gift from Thomas Sumrall to his son Isaac's widow, Mary Sumrall.

Creek in what is now the corporate limits of Magee. A narrative in Early Trails, published by the Historical and Genealogical Association of Mississippi in 1979 notes in an article entitled "Places With Other Names," that the small town of "Mangum" in Simpson County was settled in 1819 by Arthur Mangum but that the name was changed between 1860 and 1900 to "Magee" after Arthur's brother-in-law, Phil Magee. Tradition has it that they burned sulphur to keep the wolves away while they built the dam for the mill.

25 Howell, H. Grady, Jr., Going to Meet the Yankees: a History of the "Bloody Sixth" Mississippi Infantry, C.S.A. Chickasaw Bayou Press, Jackson, MS, 1983. Mr. Howell notes on page 163, in quoting from a letter written by Capt. William Candace Thompson on the battle at Port Gibson, "I found there a large number of wounded, among them Cousin Henry Mangum...I hurriedly made the rounds of the hospital. I gave Henry and his brother Arthur instructions on how to surrender and become prisoners of war. After encouraging as many as possible, I hastened from the hospital so as to keep out of reach of the enemy."

The military record for H.L. Mangum, 6th Miss. Company H, shows that H.L. enlisted in Simpson Co, MS, in August 1861. He was wounded on 2 May 1863 through the thigh at Port Gibson and surrendered at Greensboroough, NC. He applied for a pension on 26 Aug 1905.

³²Mrs. Margie Mangum Smith and her husband, R.J. Smith, have been especially helpful to the author. Mrs. Smith provided considerable information on the Magee Mangums, and Mr. Smith drove me around the Magee area to point out the early original Mangum home sites and the location of both the "Old Tullis" and Sharon Cemeteries where many of our Mangum ancestors and "Mangum kin" are buried. Mr. and Mrs. Smith own the Art Mangum-Harriet Ware home and land where a large Mangum family was raised.

⁴¹Research of Ron Miller of Jackson, MS

⁴²Material on this family was gleaned in great part from the unpublished family history on the Magee family, made available to the author by the librarian of the Magee Library.

⁴³Correspondence from Ron Miller, 403 Archer Ave, Jackson, MS 39212, indicates that Mrs. Miller's great grandmother was Mary Jane Mangum and that Mary Jane's mother was Mary Jane Butler b 14 Apr 1819, d 7 Aug 1880. (See 1850 Census, Simpson Co, MS, page 293, and 1860 Census, Simpson Co, MS, page 84). He noted that both Samuel E. and Mary Jane Butler are buried in Hubbard Cemetery in Jefferson Davis County.

Crossing the Bar

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound or foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark.

For though from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar...

Transition

So live that when thy summons comes to join

The innumerable caravan, which moves
To that mysterious realm where each shall take

His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not like the quarry slave at night,
Scourged to his 'dungeon, but, sustained
and soothed

By an unflinching trust, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the draperies of his couch

About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Dear Pat,

Your query arrived today concerning the spouses of the Mangums you listed and I am afraid that I cannot be of much help. I am enclosing a print-screen copy of what I have in my book on this family. If you know for sure or have evidence that Fannie, John W. and M.A. are issue of Arthur, do let me know with any references for documentation.

You will note that I have Eugenia E. Mangum as Arthur's and Elizabeth's only child. The Celia E.T. you have listed could well be the same as my Elizabeth. Fannie, John W. and M.A. could well be the additional children. Their birth dates seem to fit.

But the big surprise and interesting bit your card brought relates to P.A. (f) NC 1799. I believe this could well be Penelope Butler Mangum, the mother of Arthur. I know that her husband died ca 1862 in Simpson County and is buried in the Old Tullis Cemetery near Sanitorium, MS. Penelope or "Penny" as she was known could well have moved in to the household of Arthur by the 1870 Census. Is this where you got this information and were they all residing in Covington County? This could all be pure speculation on my part, but it is exciting to think that this was my gggg grandmother. So perhaps her middle name may have been "Ann?" What do you think of this speculation. I had never found her in the Simpson County Census in 1870, and I did not know where her son, Arthur, was; so it looks as if he was in Covington County. The Covington County line is not too far from where the Mangums first settled when Arthur and Penelope came to Simpson Co, MS, ca 1819-1820.

Sorry, I could not answer your question but look what it prompted? Today I went to the local Mormon library (Incidentally, it is a pretty good one if you ever need to do any research using Mormon records; however, Oakland's is terrific!) to check on the Taylor and Ross lines of Johnston Co, NC. I did find William Taylor in Johnston Co, NC on the tax list in 1784, with no township listed, as well as in the 1790 Census of Johnston. In fact, there were two William Taylors there in 1790. One might have been William, Jr. Neither Sanders Taylor nor David Ross were listed in Johnston Co; however, I did find a Sanders Taylor AND David Ross in Anson Co, NC. Sanders Taylor is listed on page 21, David Ross on page 13. I am beginning to think that I just MAY have FINALLY found the county from which David and Elizabeth moved when they made the big trip to Perry Co, MS. I have written the old gentleman you suggested, and I am keeping my fingers crossed that I may get some information from him.

I hope you don't mind all the running on, but I had to share this with someone, and you, of course, started it all, when I had almost given up on this puzzle. It all seems to make so much sense; yet no proof at this time. Let me know your thinking on this. Thanks again.

Sincerely yours,

John T. Palmer
